

Positive changes and Comfort zone

Presented by

Dr. Dereen

MSc Pharmacology

PHD student (Medical Education)

Coordinator of

Medical education department

Student selected components and Personal academic tutor

Learning outcomes

By the end of this session, students will be able to:

1. Define the concepts of positive change and comfort zone.
2. Differentiate between internal mindset and external behavioral (positive change).
3. Evaluate the impact of comfort zone on personal and professional development.
4. Reflect on your beliefs, habits, and behaviors to identify areas requiring intentional improvement.

What Is Positive Change?

Positive change is the intentional modification of Behaviors and Attitudes to produce improvement that leads to personal and professional growth.

Why Positive Change?

- Reduce fear and minimizes procrastination
- Encourages personal and professional growth
- Increases self-confidence
- Enhances skill development and broadens perspective
- Creates access to new opportunities

Positive Change needs:

- Try things outside your comfort zone
- Open to new experiences
- Confident to take action

Behavior Change Pyramid

- Positive change does not happen without the right mindset.

Positive Change and Mindset — How Are They Connected?

- Mindset is the mental framework that shapes how you think, feel, act and respond to challenges.

Mindset makes positive change

- Easier
- Sustainable

Mindset

- How a person thinks, feels, and acts.

➡ It is internal

Positive Change

- The action of making improvements in behavior and skills,

➡ It is external + observable, and results from actions.

Example

Mindset

I can't travel alone; it's too difficult and stressful.

(Your belief and attitude)

Positive Change

You decide to try a short solo trip for the first time, even if it's just a weekend.

(Your action that leads to growth)

Why Mindset Matters for Positive Change

- A positive mindset:
 - ✓ Increases willingness
 - ✓ Improves self-confidence
 - ✓ Encourages continuous improvement
 - ✓ Helps overcome fear

Without the right mindset, positive change feels stressful and difficult.

How to Build a Positive Mindset

- Replace negative thoughts with constructive ones
- Focus on progress, not perfection
- Learn from mistakes instead of avoiding them
- Believe in your ability to grow
- Surround yourself with supportive people

Mindset Types That Influence Change

- Growth Mindset
- Fixed Mindset

Intelligence

Fixed Mindset:

You will always only have what you start with.

Growth Mindset:

You can grow your intelligence.

Goals

Fixed Mindset:

Looks smart
at all costs.

Growth Mindset:
Learns at all costs.

Effort

Fixed Mindset:

Believes everything should come naturally.

Growth Mindset:

Knows effort is key to activating abilities.

Setbacks

Fixed Mindset:
Ashamed; hides mistakes and deficiencies.

Growth Mindset:
Challenged; fixes mistakes; confronts deficiencies.

Challenges

Fixed Mindset:
Avoids a challenge.

Growth Mindset:

Embraces
a challenge.

Achievements of Others

Fixed Mindset:
Threatened by the success of others.

Growth Mindset:
Inspired by the success of others.

Direction of Influence

Mindset → Drives → Positive Change

- A growth mindset encourages trying new things and accepting challenges.

Positive Change → Strengthens → Mindset

- Changing something builds confidence.
- Small improvements reinforce mindset.

Time Frame

- Mindset
 - Long-term and stable
 - Changes slowly over time
- Positive Change
 - Can be short-term or long-term
 - Can happen immediately through new actions

- Once the decision has been made to make a positive change, be ready to overcome the following:
- Old Patterns
- Self Imposed Limitations
- “What if?” Thinking
- Fear
- Old Habits

Comfort Zone

- A situation in which you feel comfortable and you do not have to do anything new or difficult.

- The comfort zone is a mental state that does not allow personal growth. If you want to continue to grow and adjust to new situations, this is not a place to stay

Can you grow in your comfort zone?

Steps to getting out of your comfort zone

Measure what's inside and outside your comfort zone

- Take a moment to reflect and ask yourself what it feels like to live within your comfort zone.
- Write down all the positive and negative aspects of your current situation and how they make you feel.
- Then, write down all the things that are outside your comfort bubble.
- Now Write down what it would feel like if you lived outside your comfort zone

Set personal goals

Starting a new language course to improve your communication skills.

Take action — one step at a time

- Take the first step and put one foot in front of the other to reach your goals

Maintain a positive way of thinking

- A positive attitude is key to getting out of your comfort zone.

Benefits to Getting out of Your Comfort Zone

- Out of Comfort Zone = Growth
- Growth = Positive Change
- Positive Change = Confidence

Simplified Classroom-Friendly Growth Mindset

(Accurate & Easy for Students)

Students answer: Agree / Disagree

Growth Mindset Items (Agree = positive)

- 1.I believe I can develop my abilities with practice.
- 2.When something is difficult, I try different strategies to understand it.
- 3.I see challenges as opportunities to grow.
- 4.I learn from feedback, even when it is critical.

Fixed Mindset Items (Agree = negative)

- 5.My intelligence is something basic about me that I cannot change.
- 6.If I struggle in a subject, it means I am not good at it.
- 7.I avoid tasks that I might fail at.
- 8.If something is hard, I prefer to give up rather than try again.

Scoring:

- +1 point for every Growth Mindset agreement
- +1 point for every Fixed Mindset disagreement

Total Score

- 6–8 = Strong Growth Mindset
- 3–5 = Mixed Mindset
- 0–2 = Fixed Mindset

Thank you for listening